

Sounds of the World

Ocean Crashes & Seagulls voices

Black Sand Beaches are typically found in areas with volcanic eruptions around them. The cause of their dark color is due to erosion of volcanic minerals and lava fragments combined with the ebb and flow of the ocean's tide.

